

ABSTRACT

A Chrysanthemum plant named 'Kiko', which when grown as a disbud is characterized by large inflorescences, about 19 cm in diameter, with elongated quilled pink ray-florets, with response time of 56 days.